Seix with your eyes
(WDR-Redaktion Religion, German, 28:30 minutes)

The documentary film Seix with your Eyes was awarded the Special Prize of the Committee of Regional Film Services for its presentation of a particularly interesting and convincing educational approach. Under this criterion, the film was awarded 37 out of a possible 40 points. In the three TOURA D'OR contest criteria, the jury awarded the film 91 out of a possible 120 points.

The film shows a group of young people travelling to Seix, a small place in the Pyrenees. The film impressively conveys the educational concept which forms the basis of their journey. The participants discover their holiday destination using only their eyes: They do not ask or read about it. The film shows the travellers' respective state of information and clearly shows their process of development during their stay in Seix. A different type of travelling is presented here. Both the educational approach and the cinematic presentation can be described as original.

The main focus of this film is on the young travellers and the place they want to get to know. The inhabitants of Seix remain in the background.

Seix with your Eyes encourages tourists to approach a destination and its everyday reality in a very unusual way.
